Winemaking

Piedra Sagrada follows a classic Médocain approach with no filtration. Each of the 7 vineyard plots is vinified separately in small, truncated stainless steel vats (5,000L) using only native yeasts. Terroir specialist, Éric Verdier personally selects and blends the final cuvée, which is then aged for 16 months in new French oak barrels from Marsannay, Le Bois du Roy

Tasting note

A challenging year that demanded sacrifice — only the ripest Cabernet Sauvignon grapes were kept, the rest meticulously discarded. What remained delivered a rare purity: a deep black ruby colour with a bright sheen, and a complex nose of fresh blackcurrant, blueberry, candied cherry, spice, and incense. On the palate, it's the silkiness that astonishes — no bitterness, no harsh edges, just finesse and depth. Velvety yet vibrant, with a long, almost patisserie-like finish. A wine where terroir triumphs over varietal, echoing the elegance of Lafite and the warmth of Richebourg — a truly exceptional expression of terroir.
